

Michael H. Moskow
Financial Executive of the Year
2003-2004

Dr. Moskow has been President and CEO of the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago since 1994. He has fourteen years experience in senior management positions at three Chicago firms. From 1991-1993, he served as Deputy U.S. Trade Representative with the rank of ambassador. Earlier in his career he served in four different government agencies: the Council of Economic Advisors, the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development, the Council on Wage and Price Stability, and the U.S. Department of Labor. He has also been active in academia, having taught most recently at the Kellogg Graduate School of Management at Northwestern University. Dr. Moskow chairs the National Bureau of Economic Research, the Economic Club of Chicago, and the Global Chicago Center of the Chicago Council on Foreign Relations. He is a board member of the Council on Foreign Relations in New York and a trustee of Lafayette College. He and his wife Connie have three married children and four grandchildren.